gamers, with a customized hotkeys function it is easy to play a game, launch a game program and other useful tasks. With the hotkeys customized with keymacro you don't need to constantly search for a function in the menu. By the time you want to launch a task it is already set and just click on it to start. You can create a hotkey function that opens a web browser, run a game or launch an editor program and thousands of other tasks. You can also customize keymacro so that it does something else whenever you run it or creates a new shortcut for the task you have set up. You can be really creative with this application, so you can create shortcuts for each application or a function that launches a program, some other task or anything you want to add. Keymacro has a bunch of unique features that not all the other applications have. Some of them are: ● Customizable hotspots to create shortcuts. ● Favorite hotkeys. ● Keymacro can do custom tasks. ● Create program shortcuts or add a shortcut to the task bar. ● A user-defined hotkeys editor. ● A simple interface. ● Program integration. ● Create a shortcut in the start menu. ● Create a shortcut in the task bar. ● Create shortcuts in all the drives. ● A complex of customization options. Keymacro is designed to be simple and very easy to use. Creating a hotkey is very simple and intuitive. Creating a hotkey is done by creating hotkey hotspots. These hotspots have commands that you can use as a shortcut for each task. You can select the hotspot in which you want the hotkey to run by clicking on it and you can change the command that will be executed by dragging it with the mouse. You can set the keyboard to execute the hotkey. You can use either a shortkey or the windows logo key (Alt + Enter). You can also use a hotkey that you can assign to the taskbar. You can assign the hotkey to the taskbar from its properties in the Keymacro options. You can select one of the three context menus: 77a5ca646e

My WCP Watermark Editor is a small but very useful application for those of you who prefer to change the default messages displayed by the OS in various places, such as the Windows 8 Consumer Preview and the Consumer Preview edition of Windows 8. You can add your own personalized message, the Build number or your year of birth in the 'Product Name' text box displayed by Windows. You can also change the Test Mode message displayed by the OS to make it more unique, to reflect your personality. Also, you can display a quote on your desktop instead of the default restriction message, which can be a lot of fun. You can freely customize any text you want, including the main one displayed by the OS, using the 'Text Settings' section. Finally, you can personalize the shortcut for the application, which is displayed on your desktop when you are running the application. The application is free and it does not require an activation code, so you can use it for as long as you want.
