Portable DropIt is a tiny software tool which lets people create rules, so as to perform file management actions, by simply dropping items on a pop-up window. This is the portable version of DropIt, which means installation is not a prerequisite. Aside from that, you can copy the program files to any location on the hard drive and double-click the executable to run it. It is also possible to drop the last mentioned files to a USB flash drive and use this utility on any computer you have access to. Another important aspect to take into consideration is that the Windows registry is not going to suffer any changes. Portable DropIt enables you to automate many file management operations, which we all know can be a drag. To be more exact, you can move, copy, compress, extract, rename, delete, encrypt, decrypt, open with, upload, send by mail, copy to Clipboard and the list goes on. It is possible to use the default profile, or create your own, by inputting a name, upload a GIF, JPG or PNG file, and control the dimensions and opacity level. What's more, you can create an unlimited number of rules, by defining a name, rule, action and destination folder. After you set up these configurations, you just have to drop the folder you are interested in organizing to the pop-up panel. From the settings panel, you can enable monitoring items at a custom time interval, encrypt profiles when closing, backup and restore settings, lock target image position and show message if process partially or completely fails, and so on. Taking all of this into consideration, we can safely say Portable DropIt is a good choice for people interested in managing the contents of their hard disk faster, without it affecting their computer's performance.
