DMC we finally have a UI anyone can use without half assing it!

I was never really a fan of the UI people tend to use when they start to mod these games, mostly because they tend to be cool shades of color, overloaded with icons, and huge. I prefer clear simplistic UI with a simple user interface. I have developed this mod as an alternative to the default UI. Mostly as it is the new UI has been tweaked to fit in a few more classes. It even comes with what is called Aura which is basically a cooldown bar within the world map. Now I know what some of you are thinking “HOLY SHIT! UI == game restart!!!!” But no, once you enter the new UI everything you did is stored in the cloud as you rest it for the next time and it is instantly available the next time you log on, once again with all the buffs and emblems you’ve earned from beating monsters. There are still some things we are working on but very few. There is also a new version of the UI coming out in the next month which will be tweaked for bug fixing. Anyways please let us know what you think in the comments! And if you want a more in depth guide on how to use the UI you can visit this page, but it is still under heavy development.

EDIT: I have since removed the “aura” support.
