The Beginnings of Parnassian Poetry: The purpose of this study is to collect the earliest production of Parnassian poetry from historic times to the rebirth of Parnassian poetry in the 20th century A.D., solely to offer a new perspective of the development of the literature of Renaissance Italy. Originally written in Danish by Jakke Kristensen, this work has been reviewed and developed into a fully featured English version by a native English speaker. The book has been thoroughly copyedited by a professional copy editor. By subdividing the entire literary and artistic production of northern Italy into four distinct periods, we are thereby able to see how this development plays out over time. This guide gives a complete overview, as well as chapters on the subject's most important periods and historic characters, as well as a detailed guide to these topics by historic figure. The Guide to Parnassian Poetry also touches on the basics of the various forms of Parnassian poetry, as well as the Parnassian cliché and the different critical theories of their development. All this is done with a strong focus on the rhetoric and language of these poems. Jakke Kristensen is a graduate of the Art Academy in Aarhus and the university of Lucerne, in Switzerland, where he got his doctorate. He has published quite a few articles in Danish and English language magazines. His book The Beginnings of Parnassian Poetry has been officially published in 2014.

I stayed up all night writing a verse about it. - Koichiro Dojiki I gave my life in the name of truth and country. After all the bloody sacrifice, the surface of the earth turned into a desolate wasteland. The Order is forced to cover all areas in blood and blood-soaked soils. - Seichi In the midst of the war, I had no choice but to stay loyal to the Great Hunt. I stayed up all night writing a verse about it. - Koichiro Dojiki Everyone on Earth loves their country. The brave souls that plunge into a torrent of blood are rare. The blood of the Order knows no bounds, and is offered to the gods. - Imperial Noble Tome I sacrificed my life in the name of country and my countrymen. I did not know the extent of the things that would come in the name of my death and I was unable to protect the innocents. - Amatsu I lived in a world where the blood flowed. I fought for ten years. I now drink the blood of people like me. - Utin I learned the truth of the Great Hunt from the Issei I admired. I am now the final master of the

Replace some characters in CMD Hello and thanks in advance. I would to replace some " and/or '/' characters in the string between characters, but I don't know how to do it in CMD. For example: My string is C:\tools\Programa Tt\ I would like that it replaces the " character by "_" and the " character by "" or something similar. 2) My string is C:/tools\Programa Tt\ I would like that it replaces " by "\" and " by "" or something similar. 3) My string is \tools\Programa Tt\ I would like that it keeps them as " but it replaces the " by "_" and the " by "" or something similar. I have seen things like ^\.(something) but I don't know how to use it. I'm using the batch file to a text file. Can you help me? Thank you. A: example: Assume the following command: findstr /r "C:\tools\Programa Tt*" "c:\example.txt" If the string you want to search change you can use the FOR command in the following way: (findstr /r "\tools\Programa Tt\" "c:\example.txt") | findstr /R "\" If your string is shared you may want to use the RegEx object, just to make your life a bit easier: For Windows PowerShell Version 3 it is like this: Get-Content "c:\example.txt" | ForEach-Object { $_ -replace "\\","\" } For Windows PowerShell Version 2 it is like this: Get-Content C:\example.txt | ForEach-Object { $_ -replace "\\","\" } Q: Set blue background to all the rows in a grid after adding to observablecollection I have a observablecollection
