Czech Game Night Sweden's game-watching enthusiasts are known for having a good time. Now, they're getting to know each other through games. Let's face it, I'm sure you wouldn't go to a Swedish game night without having the game fit the theme. The creativity of the games is even more impressive when you realize they are just small jobs from recent months. We've all seen those corkboards in the gift and novelty shops with all the coffee mugs and ashtrays on. But for one of them, a local Swedish re-seller called Game Attic, came up with the concept of "Game Night" for fun. Have you ever dreamed about teaming up with your friends, taking a load off and playing a game, in a relaxed and enjoyable atmosphere? Well, Game Attic has done just that with their events, and Game Night is one of them. Game Attic itself owns a coffee shop, and the idea came about that they would have a "Coffee Night" once a month. But then they thought, "What would be cooler than that?" and decided to expand it to a regular night at the shop, every first Thursday of the month. Game Attic has a lot of different games and boards on offer, but they're mainly video games. There are some board games, and several board games for children and adults alike. And since Game Attic owns a coffee shop, it's all very non-scary! The idea is that you pay 250 SEK (about $28 USD) for the Court may exercise pendent jurisdiction. See, e.g., Complaint of Bankers Trust Co., 566 F.Supp. 380 (E.D.N.Y.1983); In re Fitzsimmons, 575 F.2d 251, 257 (7th Cir. 1978); Hilferty v. Shipman, 516 F.2d 901, 905-06 (5th Cir.1975), cert. denied, 425 U.S. 944, 96 S.Ct. 1685, 48 L.Ed.2d 188 (1976). Although the defendant Rufus Press has not answered, it has appeared herein. It has responded to plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on the question of liability. The relief requested by plaintiff does not concern or affect Rufus Press. Therefore, the issue of whether the defendant Rufus Press is liable may be decided without an adjudication of the claims against both defendants. V. Because all of plaintiff's allegations against both defendants are federal claims, the Court may exercise jurisdiction over them pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331. Because the Court concludes that there is no basis for imposing direct liability on Rufus Press under the Act or for imposing vicarious liability on CRR under the doctrine of respondeat superior, the Court finds it unnecessary to consider whether the plaintiff's claims against CRR would be barred by the Illinois Workmen's Compensation Act, Ill.Rev.Stat. ch. 48, § 138.5 et seq. For the reasons stated herein, the Court finds that CRR is liable under the Act. VI. The Court concludes that CRR is not, and does not have, any ownership interest in the property involved in the livery garage operations. The defendant Marc of West has contended that he owns an interest in the subject property of the livery garage operation. Marc of West has not answered or otherwise denied this allegation. The defendant CRR is the sole stockholder of Marc of West. Therefore, since the liability of CRR is predicated on CRR's respondeat superior liability for Marc of West's negligence, the allegations regarding the liability of Marc of West must be incorporated into the complaint against CRR. For the reasons stated herein, the Court finds that CRR is not liable. VII. The Court concludes that the plaintiff has not complied with the requirements of the Illinois Workmen's Compensation Act. The plaintiff does
