You can create your own games and play them instantly, with no programming skills needed. In 2011, Roblox released its first video games with the Block Party and Scratch programming languages, followed by its first native IDE in 2013. The company then released its first version of the Carbon block in 2014 to allow users to design their own games with HTML5 and JavaScript and the Unity game engine. In 2012, Roblox formed a partnership with VMware to deliver a cloud platform for creating and hosting software on the platform. In April 2015, the company released a web player with a Flash-based UI that allows players to access Roblox without installing the browser plugin. In October 2015, Roblox released a Mac OS X and iOS mobile application for iOS and Android mobile devices, respectively, that allows users to access the desktop version of the web player without the need to use a computer. On May 16, 2016, Roblox and Microsoft released an Xbox 360 and Xbox One app that allows players to access the desktop version of the web player via their Microsoft Xbox consoles. Created by David Baszucki and Erik Cassel in 2004 and released in 2006, the platform hosts user-created games of multiple genres coded in the programming language Lua. For most of Roblox's history, it was relatively small, both as a platform and a company. Roblox began to grow rapidly in the second half of the 2010s, and this growth has been accelerated by the COVID-19

When you open a new game, you will be greeted with the title screen, a couple of load times before you are thrown into your first level. After loading the game, you'll be presented with a large grey building which provides some backstory. After a few seconds of cutscenes you are thrown into the mission you've been asked to complete. Depending on the mission, you'll receive your first hint by seeing the Map and a glowing yellow dot that highlights an X in the map. Once the dot is highlighted you'll be given a clue on what to do next. When you first start the mission, you'll have to collect a box, which in one version of the game requires you to find a box in an alley before you can pick it up. There is another way to do it, but this way is significantly easier. The first thing you'll need to do is enter the building on the left and search for the largest room in the building. This room has the box on the ceiling with a crate moving all around the room. You can get the box by tapping on the box and pressing the joystick button B to grab the box. Don't worry if you don't get the box at first. You can continue looking through the boxes on the map to get other boxes. If you're stuck on the box on the ceiling, there is a tip or cheat you can use to help you locate it. When you're in the mission, there are many fun facts and secrets that you can find on your map. The ones that don't show up yet are "titanium trash cans". You'll need to find one of these trash cans to get a box. The next puzzle you can find is on the second floor of the second building down. The building is to the right of the grey building. There will be a trash can in the middle of the street which has a window you can tap on. There are four trash cans with a window to tap. Grab the trash can with the window that matches the color of the window next to the box you picked up. This usually takes some luck. If you ever get stuck or want to become a better at sneaking around, you can look at the map by pressing R. After searching for the box in the first building, you'll be presented with a box on the ground in front of a window. You'll notice a red dot in the lower left corner of the box. In order to activate the box, you'll
