News iSinc says FusionPBX is its flagship product and we're going to keep offering the best experience to customers through our new product, FusionPBX-On-Demand. This is a cutting-edge version of the standard in-house solution with which customers can upgrade to with little or no hassle, should the need arise. FusionPBX-On-Demand is built from the ground up with the objective of making it easy to upgrade to new FusionPBX releases. It has a built-in lifecycle on which you can plan updates to the underlying hardware/software platforms. Also, with Connector Hub, your system administrators will be able to customize their environment to their liking, so as to make it even easier to keep things running smoothly. The launch of FusionPBX-On-Demand is also part of what we call Fusion Achieves Vision, where the focus is on focusing on one product to deliver an experience to customers that is simple and completely hassle-free to them. We are not kidding when we say we want FusionPBX-On-Demand to be our flagship product as it is a perfect combination of our best values and our customers' needs. Ways to get started with FusionPBX-On-Demand: If you have a fully-installed standard version of FusionPBX and are looking to upgrade to FusionPBX-On-Demand, it is easy. All you need is a license from Sinc and you're good to go. There's no need to interrupt current operations to prepare for the upgrade. If you are using the Stand-Alone Appliance, you can upgrade from the installation media without issues. Unlike on your standard installation, you will need to make sure that you are on the latest version of FUJITSU OS, and install the correct drivers and the application that matches with the version you are using. With the Connector Hub option, you'll get the ability to have a single resource point to manage all your installations - making it even more convenient for you. You'll be able to update the software and deploy it to multiple environments without any downtime. So, you'll be able to have a consistent
